

PREPARATION OF DEFENSE BILLS NOW UNDER WAY

Senator Chamberlain and Representative Hay to Introduce Identical Measures in Both Houses of Congress.

BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL-LEASED WIRE
Washington, Nov. 1.—Arrangements were made today by Senator Chamberlain, chairman of the Senate military affairs committee, to begin drafting immediately the series of bills which will be introduced at the opening of Congress to carry out the various parts of the administration's national defense program. The senator had a conference with Secretary Garrison, who promised that officials of the war department would give every possible aid in preparing the measures. Chairman Hay, of the House military affairs committee, is expected to join Senator Chamberlain later and identical bills carrying out the program probably will be introduced simultaneously in both houses.

It is probable that there will be at least three bills exclusive of the appropriations measures. One will provide for the principal purposes of the regular army, specifying the additional men and officers for each arm of the service; another will authorize the organization of the continental army, and the third will deal with the wider recognition to be extended to the national guard.

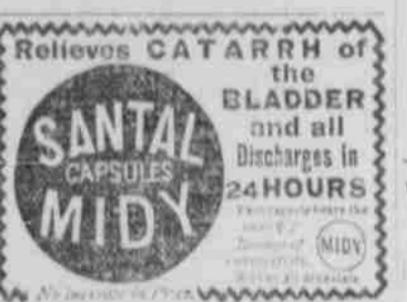

Congress will be asked, it was learned today, to appropriate $10,000,000 this year for the organized militia of the country, or just about double the average amount asked by the war department for this purpose during the last few years.

The bill providing for the organization of the army will distribute its force throughout the country, according to population, under present plans.

Details of the scheme will be worked out by the two members of congress with the aid of the war college staff and other army officers. It is understood the war college already has prepared complete plans.

WILL OF A. A. TRIMBLE APPROVED BY JUDGE OF PROBATE COURT

LARGE CROWD GOES TO CRYSTAL TO LAUGH AT ABE AND MAWRUSS

The will of A. A. Trimble was upheld yesterday by Judge John B. Morgan of the probate court. He divided his property, principally real estate in the Highland, among his children and Mrs. Sarah Trimble, his widow. The latter is to have the homestead as well as some other property.

Mrs. Trimble, Mrs. Mary T. Crawford, his daughter, and William Trimble, his son, were named in the will as executors. The latter will not qualify. The court made no appointment.

The hearing on the will of M. W. Fairman was continued until November 6 owing to the fact that Frank Harris, one of the subscribing witnesses, is not of the city. Sam Pickard and Frank McKee were the other witnesses. However, their signatures will be avowed and the presence of only Mr. Harris will be required.

The hearing of claims against the estate of Otto Dieckman was continued until November 6.

We have all read the Fulton and Perlmutter stories and have laughed and cheered at the eccentricities of Chas. M. Mawruss as depicted in the pages of the Saturday Evening Post. Last night for the first time if you go to Albuquerque to see Abe Mawruss in the booth at the stage at the Crystal theater and all the gags created by the stories that had been read in the press were taken into one long single shot from head to toe and still more after eleven o'clock could be added. The act which was the best, Abe or Mawruss? The water play developed around the two John Doeans as Abe and Leo Welch as Alwewee both measured fully up to the standard of the comedy artist. Each was as full of perfect in his manner of delivery on which sort was best, the choice to which of the two shows won favor.

There was a real plot which held the interest of the audience and interested with chief intrigues of Jewish politicians, were equally cleverly planned by the older and younger Jewish characters. At the end of the second act, when Mawruss after torturing his partner for what seemed to be a piece of information, suddenly began that Abe's partner was prompted to give up his daughter and in a spirit of unification began with the stricken Abe and concluding a bit of sister妙子. Have I mentioned Abe? It was difficult to tell whether the audience was closer to him or to himself.

Miss Carlotta Kendall of Ruth Gannett, the girl with a head like Andrew Carnegie and a waist like Lillian Russell, divided honor with the girls.

The curtain went down as usual.

The second act, and the other acts, were without a break, and the curtain fell again at the end of the fourth act.

In the first act, Abe and Mawruss were the whole show, and this was made good.
